

TrackTalents tracks all communication activities associated with a candidate, contact and job and also records are updated in real time, offering a complete view of interaction and relationship. Tracktalents converts the hiring practices of small and midsize companies into a pipeline which can be followed by every person involved. Users just drag and drop to the next step while the software handles the rest. By following a defined process users get a clear picture of their current hiring status which is essential for planning where to focus next. The streamlined process can give a bird's eye view of the entire process at any time.

Data is stored in the cloud requiring double authentication to access it. Increase productivity by accessing TrackTalents anywhere, from any device, securely. Integrations - with Job Boards, VMS, Outlook
